

Peace, Love, and Safety

How to make organizations profitable, happy, and safe

Overview

Sure some leaders are born with the skills, but most of us have to practice and perfect being a better leader and harder yet, lead safely and profitably. Join us at this hands-on, interactive, learn-by-doing program where you will realize your leadership and influencing skills improvement opportunities. Recognize that change and leadership starts from within us and that to change ourselves first is the first step to influencing others. Together we take those ideas and help you share and lead others to grow their own strengths.

By the end of this program, you will be able to:

- Examine the relationships between safety, quality and profitability
- Define the power structures that exist in your organization and how that impacts leadership growth
- Compare learning, leading and influencing styles
- Implement leadership and influencing strategies to make a safer, happier, more profitable workplace

Who should attend?

- If you have responsibility for safety, HR, workers' comp or just want everyone to help your company be safer and make more money, then this program is for you!

Your instructor

Regina McMichael, CSP, CET is President of The Learning Factory, Inc., an education and training design and delivery company with a focus on safety and risk management. She has 25 years' experience in safety and health education, training and leadership. Regina teaches around the world and mentors safety professionals to achieve their dream of becoming a Safety Training Ninja©! Regina is also the founder of Peace, Love Safety, the leadership and training catalyst supporting organizations while elevating their SH&E programs from compliance driven checklists to human and humanity based solutions. Her diverse background has allowed her to provide hands-on expertise in the research, writing and production of training manuals, videos and articles. Regina recently finished assisting in the revision of Training and Development for Dummies. She is a frequent conference speaker, committee moderator, published author and content expert witness.